An odyssey is a voyage marked by many changes of fortune.

It also signifies an intellectual or spiritual quest.

In a sense, all of life is a journey of learning and growing.

Individual motivation and perseverance have direct impact on the outcome of an odyssey, for the routes abound with pitfalls.

Paths existing in an odyssey branch out in variety and length;
each having its own
perils and treasures;
each making the
adventure rewarding
at its conclusion.

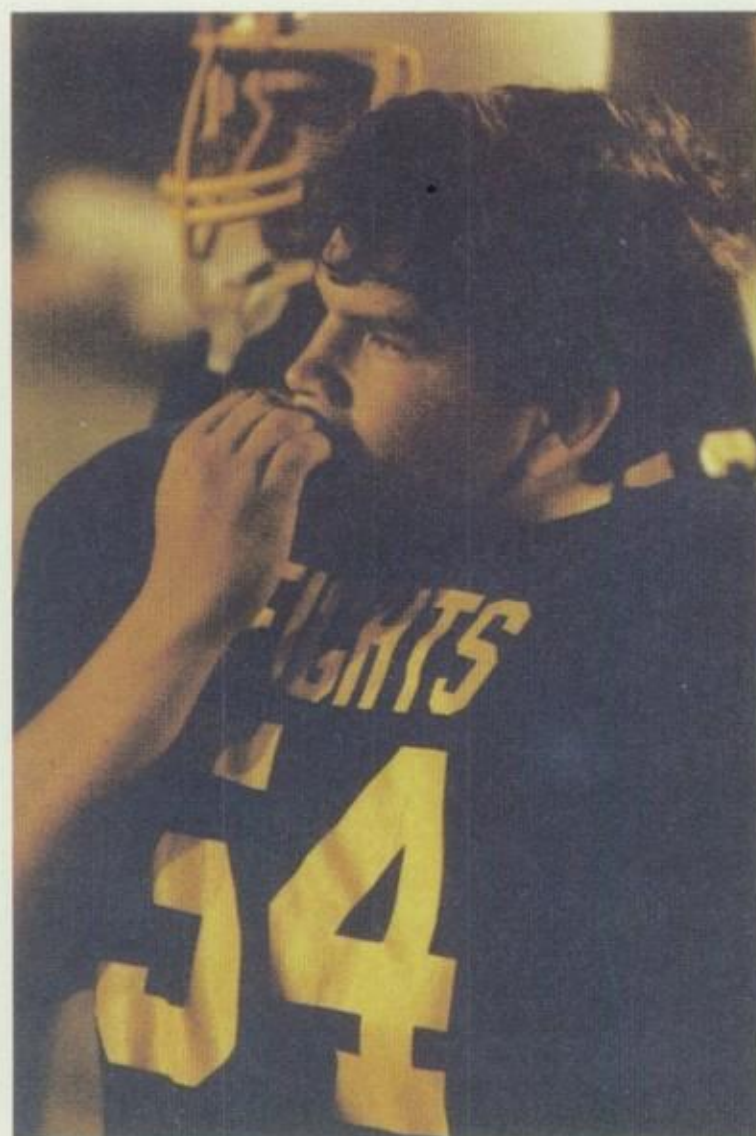

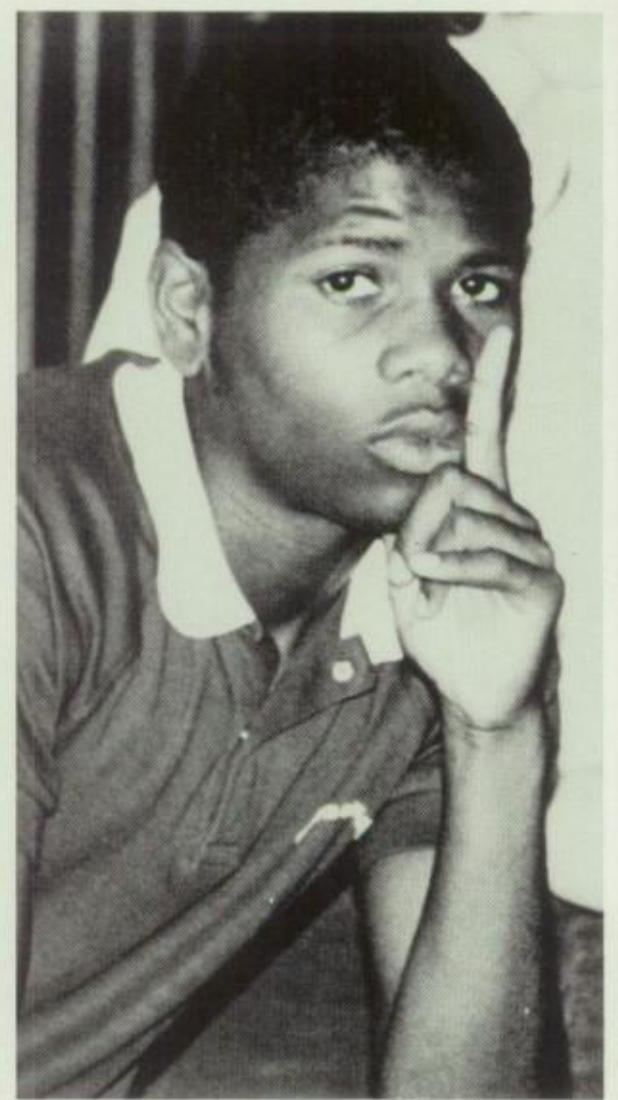

Decisions each person makes are crucial, since they not only affect him, but the people around him as well.

Keeping the goal more in mind than the possibility of the dangers involved leads to personal growth and maturity; the odyssey of life at its richest.

All journeys result in knowledge of the world around us and our place in that world.

For clearing paths for us to the various countries, and for helping us to understand and appreciate the different cultures and customs that abound around us, we dedicate this 1982 Yellow Jacket to

STUDENT LIFE

Heights Howdy Week Greet the Dazed Freshmen

The freshmen were initiated into Heights high school life this year by the Student Council's Howdy Week which is devised to orient the freshmen and other newcomers to Heights. The classes unified into one for this annual event (or events) and showed the freshmen the spirit and excitement of life on the hill.

Activities began with the Howdy Week program which is a series of skits put on by campus organizations. Rollerskating, Young Life, Powder-Puff football, and Kiddie day followed during the next few days. It finally climaxed on Friday with the announcement of the Howdy Kings and Queens and the always popular Howdy Dance on the patio with Draco.

Senior Howdy King Brian Meek and Queen Stacy Hendrickson.

"I'm a bad mama-jama!" screams Doreen Watson after the Junior girls trounced the Seniors in the annual Powder-Puff game.

"It hurts when you fall!" exclaims a startled Alaine Capper.

Jennifer Deminico enters into her second childhood for a day as a lady-like little girl.

"That water is cold!" screams a drenched Leslie Howeth.

An amazed freshman is taken aback by the extreme immensity of Howdy Week.

Jeff Uecker waits to announce the class spirit winner.

Jennifer Nelson and Debbie Law show their school spirit in the pep rally.

Parents See Heights at Open House

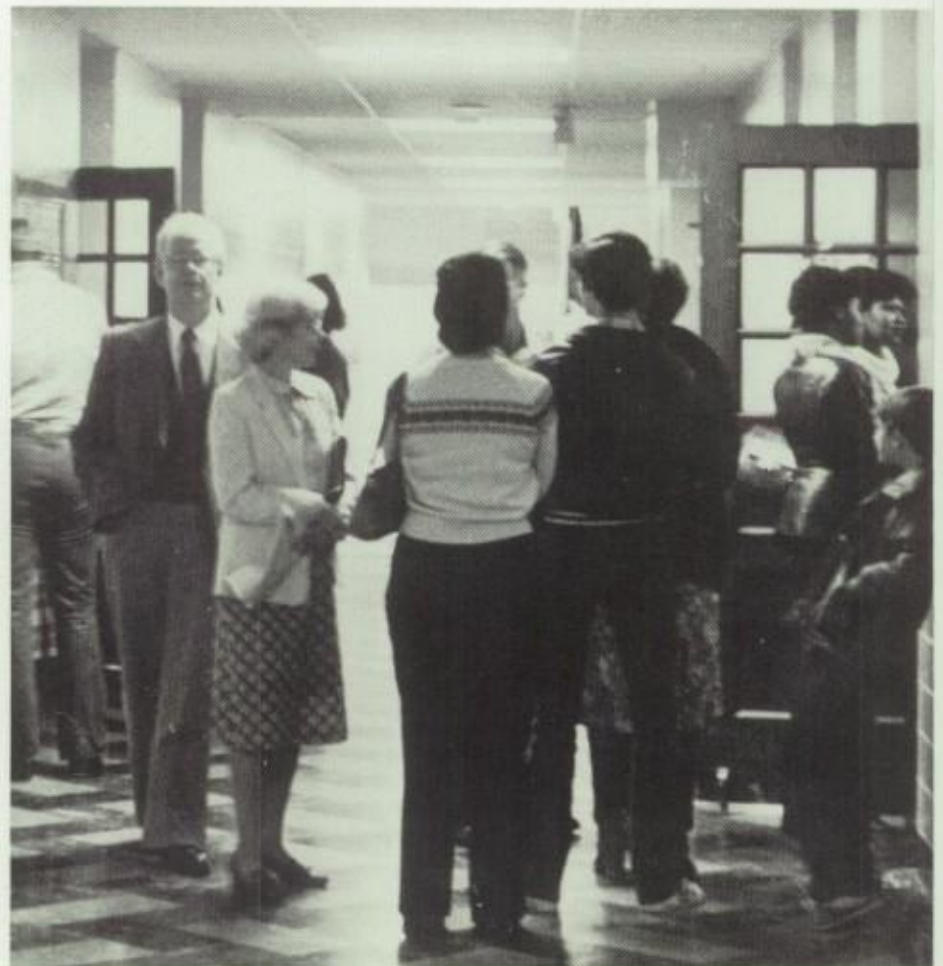

Teachers and students alike welcomed parents to Arlington Heights October 26 for Open House which was sponsored by the PTC. Parents first gathered in the auditorium for orientation. At this time new principal, Mrs. Frances Alles, gave a short speech of welcome and honored the runners-up in the National Merit Scholarship Program. Performances by the Jacket Jazz and the band were also featured. After this meeting dispersed, parents visited their children's classes and met their teachers. The PTC served refreshments in the library. Parents could watch advanced students working in the chemistry lab and view works done by students in the art rooms. The Jacket Jazz sold mugs outside the library and the Spirit of the Hill was on hand to guide lost parents. Other activities included a demonstration by the ROTC and an open rehearsal in the band hall.

English teacher Mrs. Curry explains her teaching methods to an interested parent.

Parents stand in line to meet the ever-popular Mr. Wesley.

Mrs. Thompson cheerfully explains the operation of the Jacket Journal to a fascinated father and son.

Mrs. Parham and an attentive parent exchange ideas about art.

Cara Palladino is taken aback by floods of visiting parents at Open House.

Students Bring Enthusiasm Back to the Hill

Heights' Spirit was strong this year. Beginning with weekly football games and pep rallies, the student body began a rousing flurry of activities.

The cheerleaders, in new uniforms and up-dated competition styling, led us to an all time peak in yelling.

The Jacket Jazz, Heights drill team, worked hard to provide entertainment for the crowds. They prepared new dances, routines, and drills which they performed for competition, games, and pep rallies.

Spirit of the Hill supported our athletes by raising as much school spirit as possible. They led class yells and helped lead the cheers during pep rallies. They ran on the field before games and raised money by selling ribbons and pins.

The band, dressed in all new uniforms, began practice late in the summer, and came to school early in the morning. This practice resulted in new routines and compositions which they proudly performed for the students, the crowd at the games, and for competition and awards.

The crowd excitedly invades the field after Heights' victory.

Seniors Leslie Webster and Rhonda Stepp wait patiently for the announcement of the spirit cup.

The Senior guys prove they have spirit during the class yell.

Leslie Webster Named '81 Homecoming Queen.

Homecoming 1981 was overtaken by the land of enchantment as it came to the Hill. This year instead of the various clubs decorating the halls, the classes competed for prizes by decorating the patio to the theme of "The Wonderful World of Heights." The Freshman class was awarded a fifty dollar prize for the winning decorations.

Student Body President, Ted Trahan, announced at the pep rally that Leslie Webster had been elected as the '81 Homecoming Queen. Her court consisted of Laura Otis, Rhonda Stepp, Michelle Mathisen, Gina Williams, Natalie Woodward, Patricia Horneffer, Lisa Simeno, Darla Bentley, Susan Burns, Beth Judson, Lauri Rapp, and Caroline Hernandez.

Michelle Mathisen and father watch on as the halftime festivities take place.

Leslie Webster receives a congratulatory hug from former Queen and friend, Pattie Brown.

Rhonda Stepp is proudly escorted on the field by her father.

Lisa Simeno looks on as ceremonies take place on the field.

Sophomores set up Homecoming decorations before school on the patio for contest.

1981, The Year That Witnessed Up and Downs

Assassinations and attempted assassinations rocked the world. Advances in engineering pushed America to the front in the conquest for space exploration. It was a year with little chance for peace and calm.

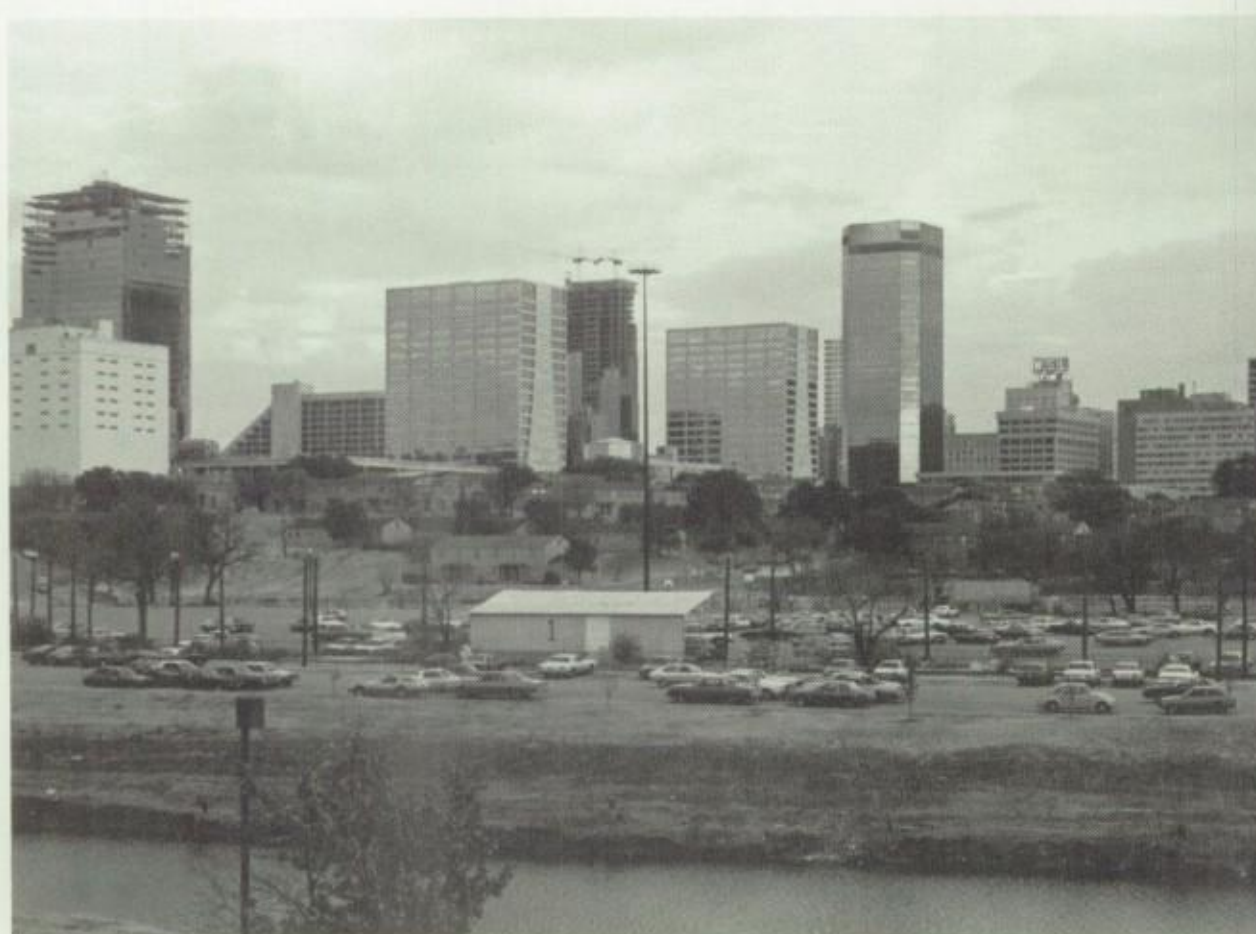

Two months after Ronald Reagan was elected president, an assassination on his life was attempted by John Hinckly, Jr. Although Reagan was wounded only slightly, his press secretary, James Brady, was seriously wounded. In Vatican City in Rome, Pope John Paul II, making a customary appearance in his open limousine, also was struck by the bullets of a would-be assassin from Turkey. On a more somber note, Anwar Sadat, president of Egypt, was felled by a barrage of bullets as he and other top-ranking military officials sat reviewing a show of Egyptian strength.

The ever-encroaching threat of Communism was evident in the satellite country of Poland. Attempting to become more democratic and westernized, the country, led by labor leader Lech Walesa, was torn by labor strikes and civil uprisings protesting the presence of Russian armed forces inside her borders. Hit hard by a gripping winter, food shortages, and lack of fuel, the flames to an almost certain revolution raged dangerously close to military conflict. The world held its breath as Russian and Polish leaders edgily negotiated an uncertain peace.

Elsewhere in the world, El Salvador was war-torn in throes of a political revolution backed by guerrilla forces. Israel annexed the Golan Heights, violating a treaty with the United Nations, much to the consternation of the U.A.R. Over the international waters of the Mediterranean, an air fight stunned the world when two Libyan jets attacked American military planes for being over "Libyan territory." The American jets retaliated and quickly shot down the attackers. On a happier note, the American hostages held captive for over a year in Iran were released to the joy of the free world.

The pretty side of the international scene saw London decked out in wedding finery as Prince Charles, heir to the throne of England, wed Lady Diana Spencer. It was a summer of parties, parades, and pageantry.

On the national scene, Ronald Reagan was sworn in as the fortieth president of the United States. A conservative Republican, Reagan began implementing a new economic system, nicknamed "Reaganomics" by the media. His plan, cutting many social programs and upping defense spending, was to reduce the estimated one trillion dollar deficit in the government budget. Branded a federalist, Reagan instituted a return of many of the federal agencies to the states.

Locally, the downtown skyline was ever changing as glass towers from the City Center, Continental National Bank, and the First United Bank Towers loomed upward. Renovation of the older buildings downtown resulted in the Sundance Square, an area of several blocks dedicated to preserving Fort Worth's old west heritage.

Ghosts and Goblins Haunt the Halloween Dance

Could Heights be haunted? On Halloween night many ghosts and goblins arrived at Heights for the second annual Halloween Dance. Sponsored by the Student Council, the dance featured disc jockey Scott Teleford and his variety of music from new wave rock to the sounds of the Beatles.

Everyone was encouraged to wear costumes and showed up as everything from Punk Rockers to the old stand-by Dracula and Wolfman get-ups. The dance was a success and has become a tradition of The Hill.

Thespians Produce Comedy "See How They Run"

Old maids getting drunk, people being locked in closets, and mistaken identity were all part of the Drama and Performing Arts' production of "See How They Run." The plot of "See How They Run," — a farce, takes place in a seemingly-mild-mannered, old English vicarage during World War II.

The play was presented in four performances, two during the days of December 9th and 10th in the school auditorium. And two night performances at 7:30 on the 9th and 10th. Coordinating the performance was Director Mrs. Rosemary Burton and artistic directors Mrs. Beverly Fletcher and Miss Buzzy Owens. The Reverend Toop was played by Ted Trahan, senior, while Jennifer DeMinico and Jennifer Nelson, seniors, played his wife Penelope. Amy Brittingham, freshman, and Kristen Gardner, junior, were double-cast as Miss Skillen. And acting the part of Corporal Clive Winston was Sean Matthews, junior.

Ted Trahan tries desperately to remember his lines.

Sean Matthews is humored by Diane Roberts' lines.

Ricky Fernandez is stunned by Ted Trahan's stage presence.

Fernando Trujillo carries Ted Trahan off the stage.

College Night Opens Doors to Heightsters

This year Arlington Heights college night was held on December 8. College representatives were there to help both parents and students get better acquainted with the universities of their choice.

College counselors brought with them applications, catalogs, and information concerning the requirements for admission, registration, and advanced placement tests. Students were eager to talk to the different counselors about college and their chosen field of study.

Some colleges represented were Texas Christian University, Southern Methodist University, University of Texas at Austin and Baylor University.

Timo Heikkinen says he is also going to miss the warm climate, Heights, and especially the football team. Next July when he plans to return to Oulu, Finland, he has a feeling he's going to freeze to death. His favorite class was speech.

Elf Day Kicks Off Season of Joy On The Hill

It was the time of year for Santas and reindeer, Christmas trees and snowflakes, frosty air and doorways covered with mistletoe. It was Christmas! The spirit arrived on the hill in grand style. The halls were filled with Student Council elves bringing their tidings of good cheee to all.

The Christmas tree was on the scene in the main foyer. Decorations were provided by all the clubs at Heights. Each was asked to design a bird that would show their Christmas spirit.

The band was also in the mood. They gave a free concert December 17 at the Hyatt Regency. The show was open to the public and selections included Sleigh Ride, Christmas Moods, and Yuletide Festival.

For the needy families in the community, the Student Council also sponsored a canned goods drive.

Who We Are, What We Like, and What We Do . . .

The typical Heights girl can be found after school and on weekends at the country club, a friend's house, or Speak-Easy. Her favorite foods are Mexican Food, Guacca-Burgers, and salads. The style she favors most in clothes is the casual preppy look — oxford-cloth blouses, skirts, and loafers.

She attended the Senior sponsored Luau Dance and all the Student Council Dances and the Carnival. The Heights girl could be heard at all the pep rallies and games supporting the teams in true spirit.

Dressing for comfort style and looks, the Heights guy wears boots and jeans, the preppy look, or whatever seems most comfortable. Jobs afforded money for cars, gasoline, and dates.

MOVIES: Superman II, Raiders of the Lost Ark, Arthur, Ordinary People, Elephant Man, American Werewolf in London, Raging Bull.

FADS: Designer jeans, decorated shoelaces, "preppy look," Rubik's Cubes, Rubik's anything (triangle, octagon, etc.), video games, jogging.

CARS: Anything that the hands could be laid on. (Volkswagens, Pintos, Porsches, etc.)

Student Talent Shines in Heights Highlights

The bright spotlight of prospective fame shone down upon talented and versatile students of the Hill once again as the fourth annual Heights Highlights got underway on January 28. Lucky students who viewed the divided performances at third and fifth periods were treated to spirited renditions by dancers, bands, comedy acts, and the Jacket Jazz, who also sponsored the event. The Arlington Heights Stage Band was on hand to perform in between numbers. An additional performance was given that evening for parents who wished to attend.

Valentine's Day Brings Out Cupids at Heights

Cupid Day arrived on Friday, February 12 with a lot of hearts. Each Student Council member was given five hearts to give to a student who earned the heart. An example of this is earning a heart by either carrying the books of a Student Council representative or sharpening their pencil. In return the student was rewarded with a heart. At the end of the day the boy and girl with the most hearts was chosen Mr. and Miss Irresistible.

The Student Council also sold carnations for seventy-five cents apiece. Each student could send one to his or her Valentine, thus ending up the day smelling quite nice.

Student Council Establishes New Traditions

Under the guidance of Student Council President Ted Trahan, the Executive Board led a fruitful and productive year. With the aid of Mary Keffer, Vice-President; Courtney Hill, Secretary; and Mike Alread, Treasurer, the Council approved and executed several new and imaginative events.

Turkey Day involved various teachers gobbling over the announcements to raise money for needy families. A Christmas can drive helped provide meals to shut-ins in the area.

A school-wide carnival was introduced to Heights. All clubs and organizations were represented by various booths.

Traditional events were also alive and very well. Howdy Week, Elf-Grams, Spring Fever Week, and Cupid-Grams all went off with the usual bang.

Handbook and Elections Give Time to Council

The student directory, a monthly calendar, and meeting agendas were responsibilities of this year's Handbook Committee.

Ann Creager led marathon typing sessions in an effort to deliver the directories in time for the Christmas Holidays.

The directory was included in this year's Publications package, but students were able to buy them separately for a small charge.

Counting Turkey Day gobbling contest ballots was one of the specialized duties of the Student Council Elections Committee.

Led by Chairperson Darlene Bridgewater, the committee spent many hours typing and designing ballots to be used by classes for their officer elections.

Public Relations and Programs Accent Council

Led by Bill Jordan, this year's Public Relations committee was responsible for advertising Student Council activities.

Newly instituted subcommittees gave council members a variety of responsibilities ranging from providing good will throughout the community to providing homeroom parties.

Creative announcements were aired proclaiming Student Council meetings and activities.

Under the guidance of Chairperson Gayle Herr, the Programs committee began the year by decorating and selling refreshments for the Howdy and Halloween dances.

Preparing the Library for Council meetins and passing out reports and agendas were also jobs of this committee.

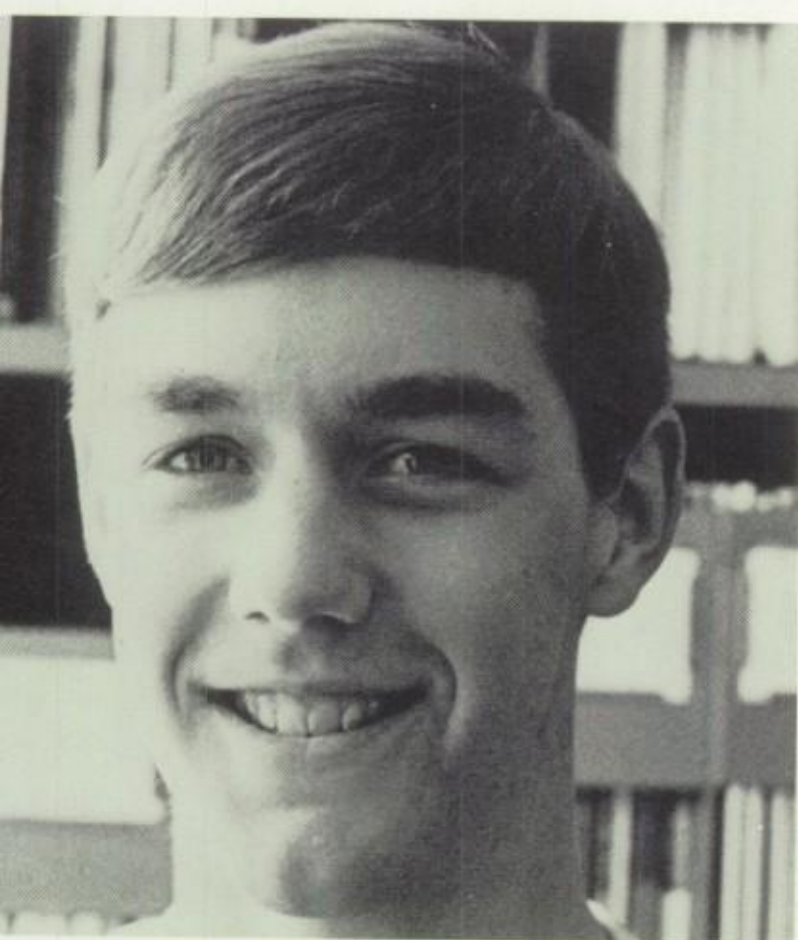

Elf and Cupid Grams were designed by the Programs Committee while active Council members delivered them.

Jacket Jazz Competes in Drill Team Festival

The Second Annual Drill Team Festival took place in Galveston Dec. 12. The Jacket Jazz, the only team invited from the city, performed a fifteen minute program. A pop routine, to the music of 'Tomorrow', a dance routine, to Devo's "The Girl You Want," and a high kick routine to "Happy Days Are Here Again" made up their performance. The officers danced to Pat Benatar's "Promises in the Dark." This and the prop routine were choreographed by Tammy Farris.

The girls were judged in three categories; audience appeal, showmanship, and general appearance. In each category they were judged on variety, originality, and precision.

To raise money for the trip, the Jazz sold calendars and gave a student demonstration.

"We practiced a lot and worked very hard," said Tammy, "we represented the school and Fort Worth." The girls worked until 6 pm on weekdays and 10 hours on the weekend.

"We're new, but we tried hard. Many of the other teams have existed for years," said Barbara Taylor, sponsor.

Orchestra Tunes Up Another Successful Year

The AHHS Orchestra enjoyed another successful year under the direction of Mr. Paul Smith. The orchestra gave a Christmas concert as entertainment for the residents of TCU's Foster Dorm.

The orchestra's quintet performed for the enjoyment of many throughout the year.

In the Spring, the orchestra joined with the drama department to produce the musical, "Oklahoma."

Officers Joyce Hryekewicz, President, Tina Hames, Vice-President, Vivian Vargas, Secretary-Treasurer, and Lori Haire, Librarian, led the orchestra.

National Honor Society Begins New Tradition

NHS sponsors: Mrs. Marilyn Bettes and Mr. Arch Vanmeter.

This year, the National Honor Society along with their annual events and sales, started a new tradition at Heights. The club members, in Halloween apparel, delivered messages tied to stalks of weeds which were called Halloweeds. Other projects of the club included the annual Blood Drive and Rubik's Cube Sale, which was a great success. Whiz Quiz Kids Engage in Mental Challenge

The Whiz Quiz team has been active again this year. They lost their first competition to Duncanville by a score of 330-180 on September 15. They had a "wild card" spot for future games.

Steve Cook, captain, led the group which included Chris Bertram, senior, Tracy Ward, sophomore, and Chris Bellomy, junior. The alternate was Suzy Bertram, freshman.

The team's sponsor was Mr. David Kamin, math teacher. They practiced before school in the library and took their questions from Encyclopedia Britannica. Also several teachers wrote questions.

French Club Carries on Old French Traditions

The French Club began a very exciting school year with their annual Fall Kick-off picnic featuring various field events. To keep within the French tradition, the group held a Christmas dinner complete with authentic cuisine of their country. The International Day festivities were a success with the pastries prepared by Club members. Once again, the French Club officers created a very eventful school year for their members.

Library Club Encourages Reading Awareness

This year's Library Club was very active at Heights with book drives and charity work for the Public Library. One of the goals for this year was to raise fines for library books from five-cents a day to five-cents an hour.

Club members held lectures on subjects designed to attract optimum student response. Topics such as the proper way to install lightbulbs, was one of the most popular lectures. "We started with a goal, to go in there and read," said Debbie Law.

Other activities included promoting Book Awareness Week and arranging reams of books according to the prescribed decimal system.

Math Club Prepares for Area Competition

This year's Arlington Heights High School Math Club was very receptive to all instructions given by their sponsor, Mrs. Kathryn Daniel. Once again Mrs. Daniel taught club members difficult math skills. Each Thursday at seven-thirty in the morning, these ambitious students arrived at the Heights campus to improve calculating skills and equation solving. Drills were executed for speed and accuracy. Number sense was a main objective in the club's agenda. In addition to all of this hard work, the members also prepared for competition with other schools around the Fort Worth metroplex.

Serving as this year's officers in the Math Club were Ronnie Killingsworth, Anthony Mancuso, and Carl Palladino.

Tri-C Members Improve Looks On The Hill

The Tri-C sponsors were: Mrs. Bettes, Mrs. Fletcher, and Mrs. Hickox.

The Arlington Heights club has accomplished many projects this year. This is the club's second year on the Hill. The members of the club do not have to be in a special class or in a specific grade. Membership is available to all students who take an interest in what happens at Heights. The club's trying to get students to take pride in the school. They strive to beautify the grounds and inform the students of special activities.

TRI - C has done some noticeable work at Heights. Working with the members of PTC, the lower floor restrooms were painted with graphic designs. The club donated basketball hoop trash cans to the patio. The students were able to make a game of pitching trash.

JROTC Sponsors Military Ball and Picnic

Through the hard work and strict discipline that accompanies being an active participant in the Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps, this group of students found time to sponsor several activities including a Military Ball and an annual picnic.

In preparation for the Annual Federal Inspection, many students surpassed difficulties of their normal routine and worked very hard. This dedication is one of the reasons all of the students passed this detailed inspection.

Daily activities included Field Problem. This learning experience involved map and compass reading techniques. The group of cadets was also responsible for raising and lowering the flag each day.

All of these factors contributed to the group's reputation as one of the cities top ranking military organizations.

ICT Students Earn Class Credit On-the-Job

Industrial Cooperative Training is a credited work program available to qualifying students at Heights. The requirements are: a student must be either a junior or senior, and must maintain an average grade point.

The program enabled students to earn school credit while working. The on-the-job training allows the students to learn what the outside business world is like. The ICT students work in industrial jobs such as construction or warehouse businesses.

The students enjoyed the program. They are able to leave school early to go to work. Each student has to work a minimum of 15 hours a week.

PELE Gives Christmas Gifts to the Needy

The Arlington Heights chapter of Pre-Elementary Laboratory Education, better known as PELE to Heights' students, has participated in many activities this year. The club sold candy during November to raise money for a needy family. The family was given Christmas gifts and a Christmas tree.

The club is divided into two groups. The advanced students aid pre-school teachers during the morning hours, and the first-year students aid during the afternoon.

The club is sponsored by Mrs. Wang and officers are as follows: Laura Vargas, Regina Ward, Kelly Huston, Monica Pena, Teresa Rodriquez, Christie Brittingham, and Linda Vargas.

DECA Provides Work Experience for Students

Marketing Distributive Education Clubs of America was active at Heights again this year.

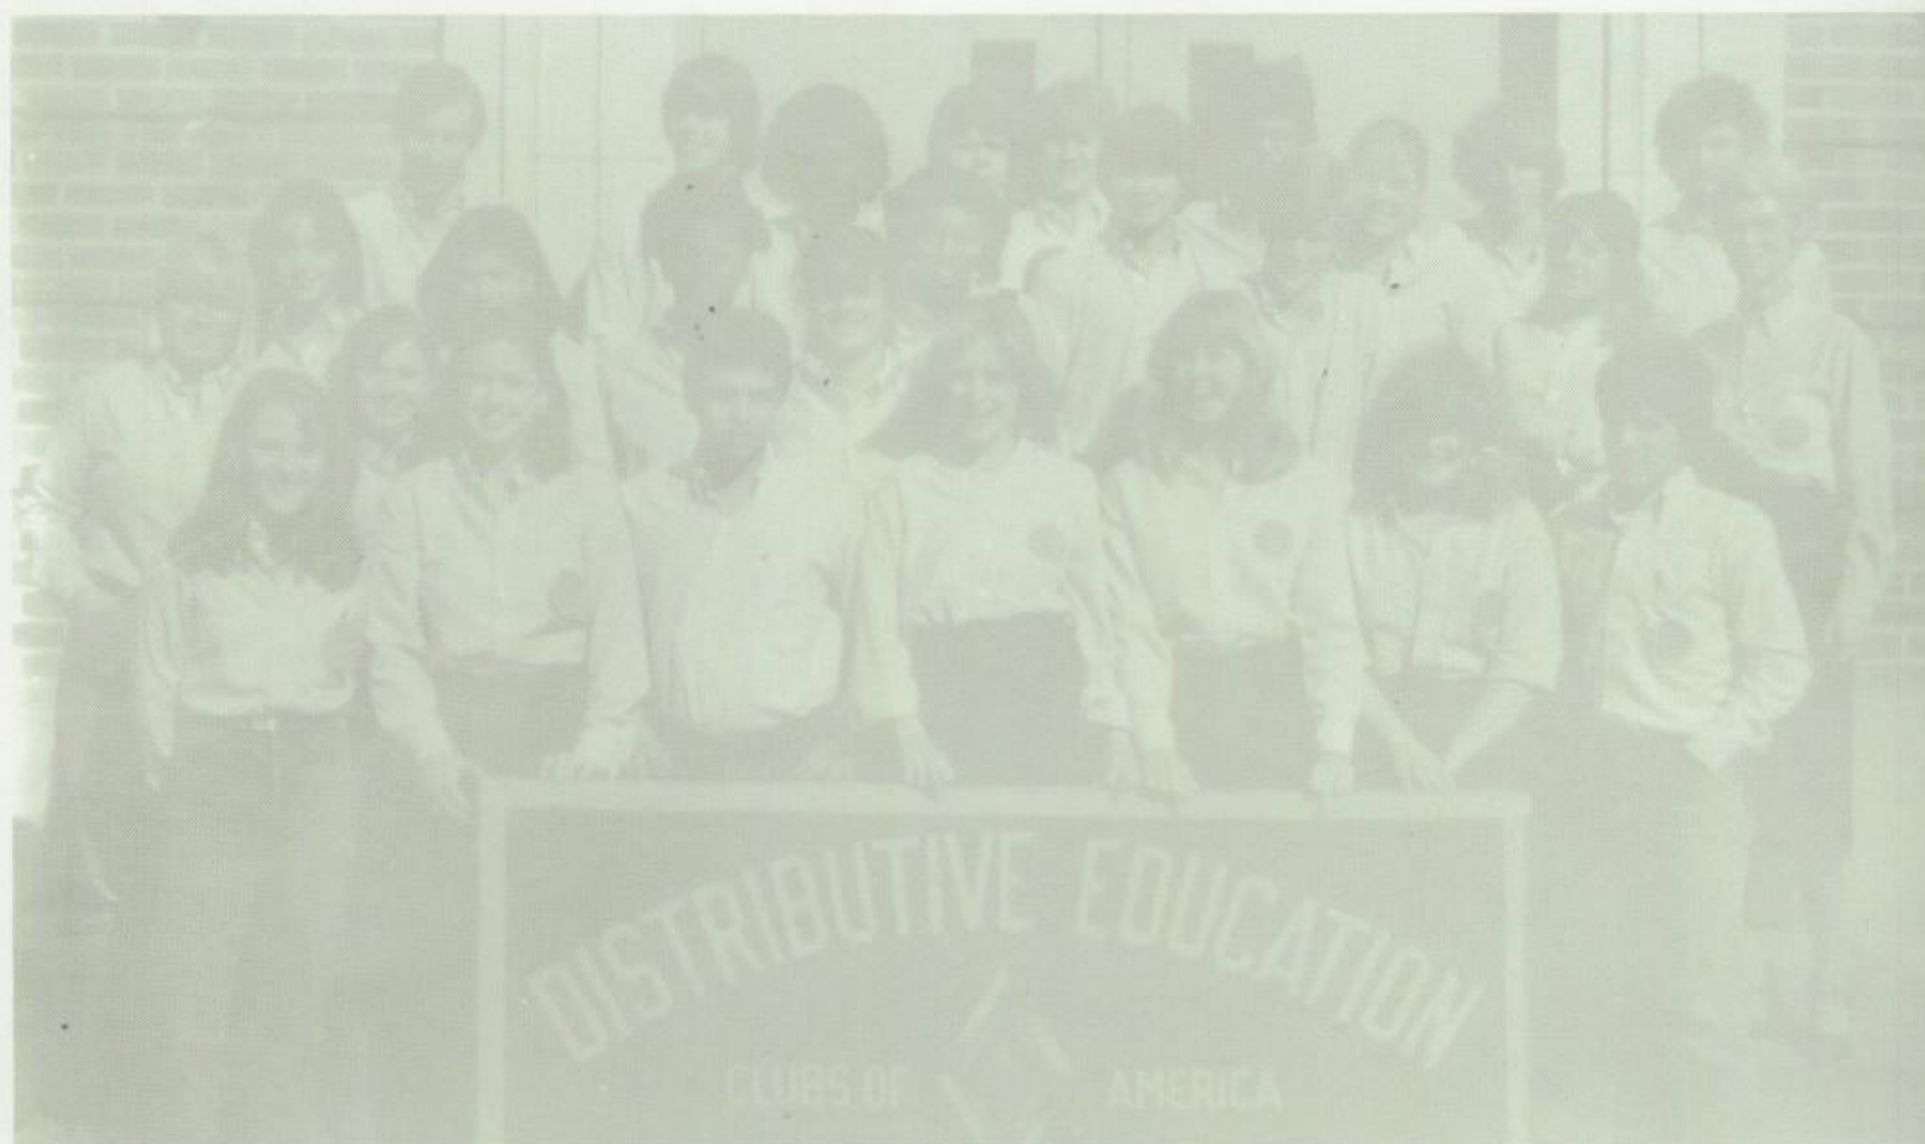

Early in the year, the group had an employee-employer breakfast at Billy Bob's Texas. This annual event, held to honor both employees and employers, was hosted by DECA of AHHS.

The Regional Five Competition took place in March this year. The students competed with the job skills they learned both in class and on the job. Categories ranged from decorating to business skills. The group sold M and M's to raise money for this event.

Mrs. Jackie Frazer was the club's sponsor.

Officers: Karen Barlow, Treasurer; Debbie Burgin, Secretary; Greg Walker, Finance Advisor; Susan Burns, President; and Julie Lewis, Vice-President.

OEA Helps Prepare Students for the Future

Mrs. Juanita Hamrick sponsored this year's OEA club . . .

The Office Education Association club worked on secretarial skills and learned to operate various office machines. After third period, the students left school to work at secretarial jobs.

In February, the OEA joined other Fort Worth Public Schools in Office Skills Competition. The areas of competition included Accounting, Typing, Proofreading, and many more studies. OEA members were either juniors or seniors. They should have completed typing courses before admittance into the club. The on-the-job advisors worked in cooperation with the teacher in training the students. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Juanita Hamrick.

Jacket Journal Provides Award-Winning Paper

Sponsored by Mrs. Gene Thompson, the All-American award winning Jacket Journal Staff learned the importance of deadlines, good journalism, and ad campaigning. The Jacket Journal was also a member of the Quill and Scroll Society.

This year's editor-in-chief was Sean Price. Other key positions were filled by Cecily Stogsdill, news editor, and Sharon Hatfield, beat editor. Scott Neely was sports editor, and Mary Keffer was the business manager.

The Annual Staff Comes Through Once Again

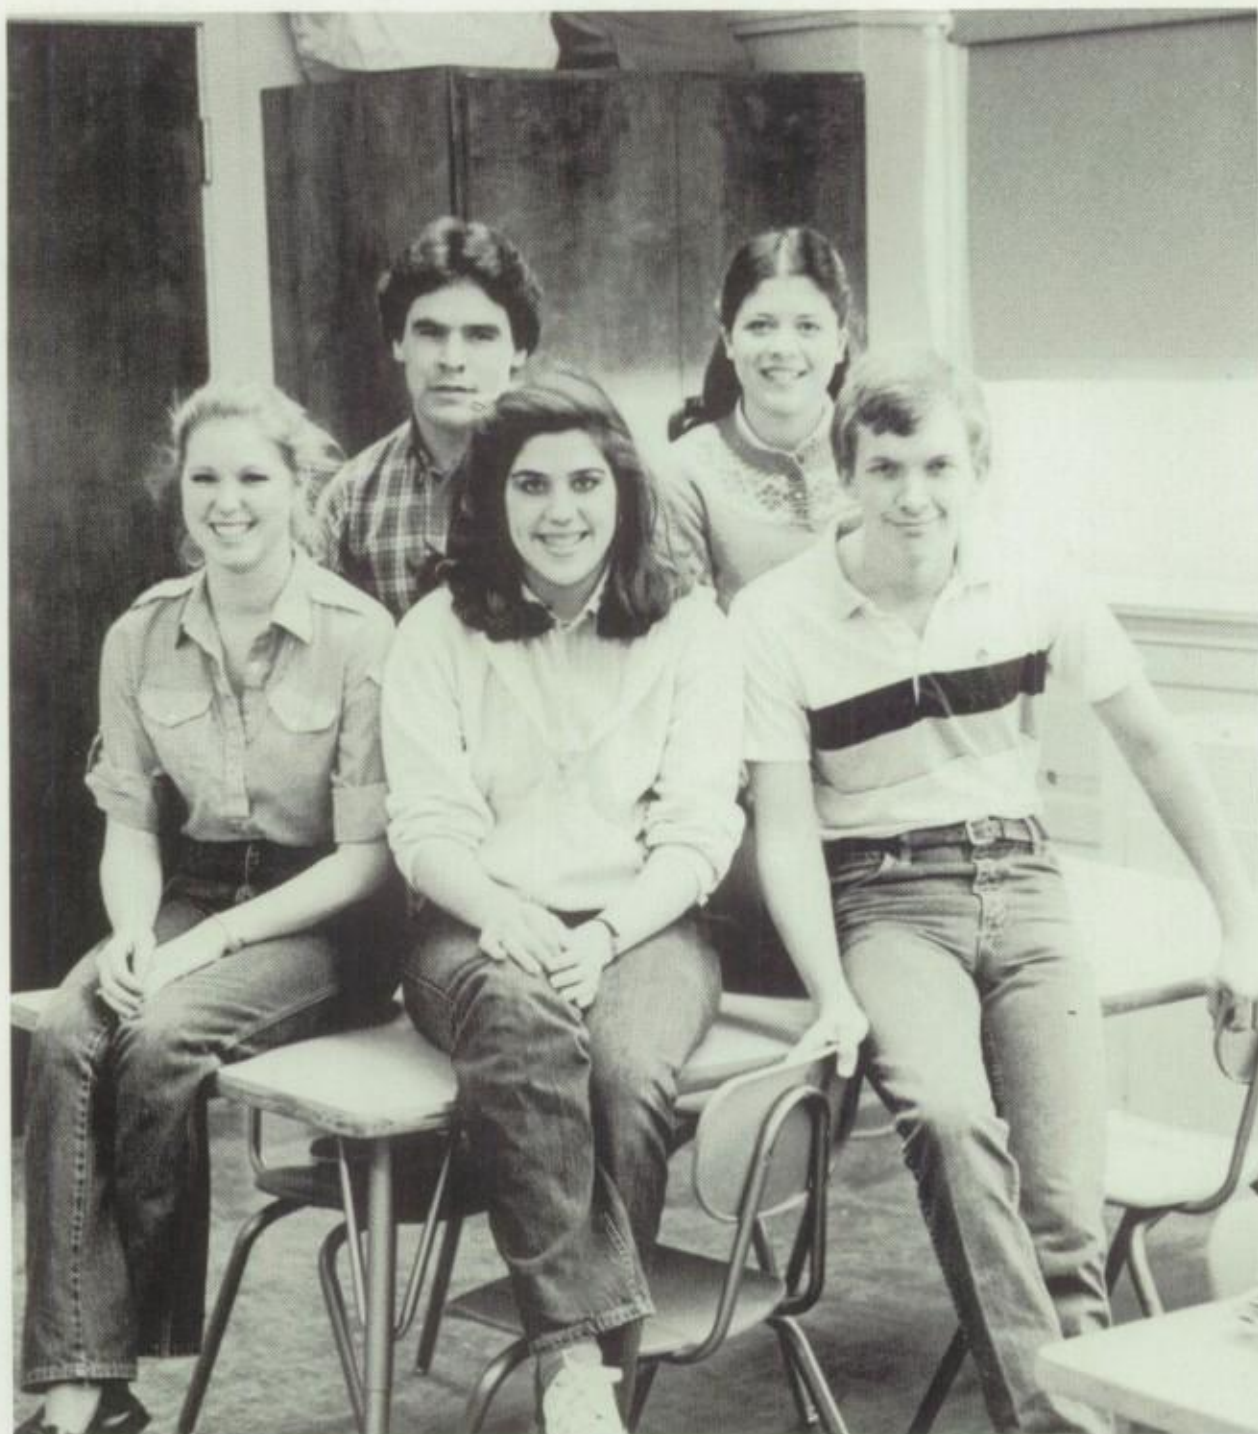

Pandemonium and chaos reigned in the Publications Office for the entire year. The Annual Staff, led by Bill Jordan and Darla Bentley, managed to 'squeak through' another edition of the book.

After the juniors were educated to the ways of the staffing world, production began. Learning of quad paks and drawing layouts occupied the first six weeks of the year.

The rest of the time was spent organizing class sections and writing copy.

1981 Season Brings Disappointment to the Hill

Losses plagued the 1981 varsity football squad. With the early losses of expected stars Jim Wood and David Atkins, the team never gained momentum and proceeded to lose the first seven games. But the winning spirit was revived as the Jackets claimed a great victory over the then district leading Dunbar Wildcats, 14-6. For his performance in that game, senior runningback Craig Holmes received the Ebby Halliday "Player of the Week" award.

Enthusiasm was high for the game against Eastern Hills the next week but was quickly suppressed as the Highlanders soundly defeated Heights, 35-3.

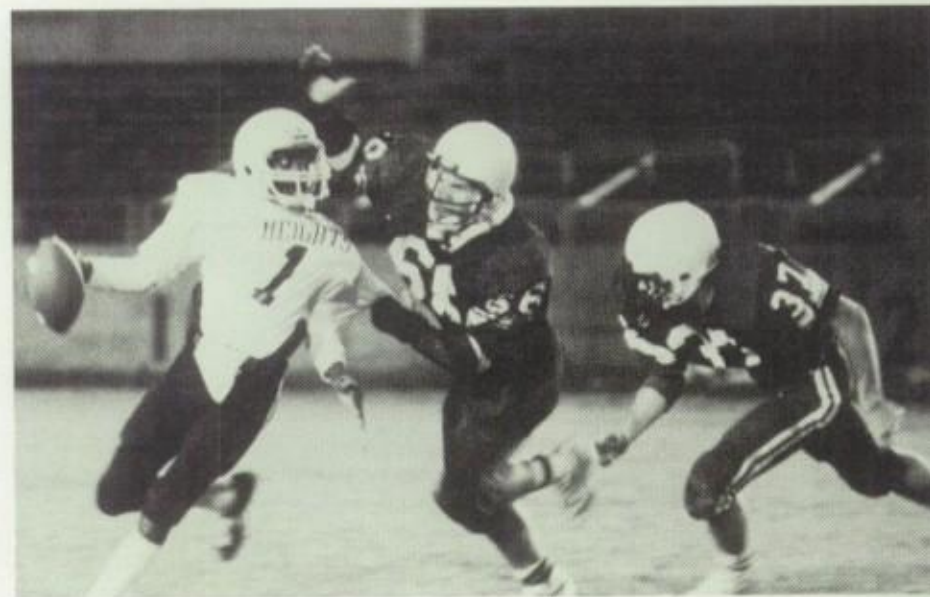

The last game of the season pitted the Yellow Jackets against the winless Southwest Rebels. Jacket drive and determination kept their opponents scoreless in what was a fitting end to the season. Glimpses of yesteryear were shown in the contest as the team trounced the Rebels, 32-0.

Aldrich Bailey was named Ebby Halliday "Player of the Week" for his outstanding defensive play.

This year's team was held together by three-year lettermen Brent Morford, Bob White, and Aldrich Bailey. Other outstanding players were Dale Watson, Eric Sutton, Greg Powell, and Nick Jay. However, the efforts of these outstanding players failed to keep the winning tradition alive on the Hill.

Second Year Jackets Work Hard for the Hill

Drilled by coaches Ron Dickey and John Leseman, the Junior Varsity worked hard to win their first two games. However, as the season progressed, the J.V. team lost their next six games. They rallied in a shut-out against Eastern Hills with a score of 6-0, only to be defeated by Southwest in their next game. Pat Burns and Bubba Bryant lead the team to a 3-7 season.

Freshman Gridders End With Successful Year

The Freshmen football team got off to a slow start with only one win in their first six games. But as the season progressed they finished by winning four straight games to make their record 5-4. Anchoring the defense were Jeff Wolf and Tony Johnson while the offense was led by Brian Larkins and Steve Gauntt. The Frosh defense was outstanding as they stopped their opponents' offensive game many times. Coached by Jimmy Jenkins and Larry Waters, the team worked long and hard.

Cagers Bring Successful Season to Heights

For the first time since 1972, Heights Varsity Basketball team had a winning season. Coach Johnny Nabors, seeking respectability for his program, gained it with his primarily senior squad.

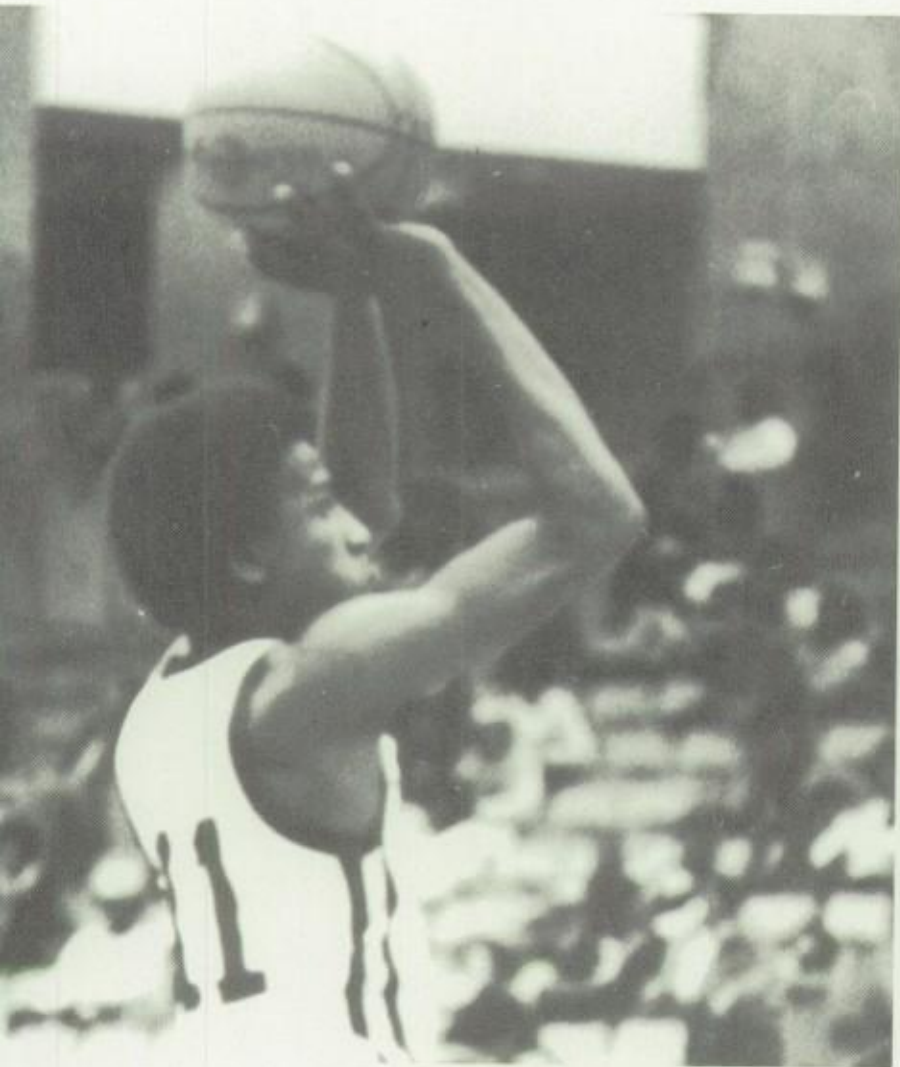

Key players Chris Hunt, Mark Miller, Tres Morris, Paul Otte, Ronnie Smith, and David Wiggins, combined to produce the unpredictable offensive game characteristic of the Jackets' season. The team attained notoriety by securing a 13-4 preseason record, which included two tournament consolation championships. The Jackets ended the season at 19-12.

Height and Strength Aid Freshman Cagers

The Freshman basketball team began this season with an awesome number of victories, but didn't fare quite so well in district competition. The team has good potential and should make an excellent junior varsity. Starters for the frosh team were Ben Barlow, Steve Booker, Steve Durham, C. Rosborough, and Michael Ross.

The Arlington Heights volleyball team lived up to this year's expectations — they did improve. Having won two of their sixteen games, the Varsity showed a definite improvement from last year's accomplishments. However, the Junior Varsity met many difficult obstacles, thus ending up winless. Playing numerous outstanding opponents, the J.V. failed to bring the Hill a victory. The volleyballers developed high-slam techniques to make up for their lack of height.

With leadership from team captain Courtney Hill, the team worked long and hard and expects to be even better in next year's competition. Both teams were organized by Ms. Mickey Pelley and Mrs. Linda Szot.

Linksters Tee-off for District Championship

Golfers shot for the birdies this year in hope of taking the varsity district championship. With most of last year's team returning, Golf coach Rob Dixon expected this year's team to do even better. They placed well in fall tournaments with a first place in the West Fort Worth Invitational and a second place in a Dallas Woodlawn tournament.

The girls team included state ranked Kim Durks who placed in state tournament medalist competition last year and was expected to repeat that performance. Other girl golfers included Amy Franks and Peppie Knox.

Tankers Leave Wake in District Competition

The Arlington Heights' Swim Team went undefeated in their first six meets this year. The Jacket Swim Team is the only team in Fort Worth history to remain undefeated in Dual Meet Competition. Guided by first-year coach, David Dodson, the team practiced every day at Wilkerson-Greines Activity Center from 2:00 to 5:00.

Michelle Batterson dives for perfection.

Mike Millican, junior, displays his technique of a racing dive while stretching for the wild blue yonder.

Boys' Soccer Team Places Emphasis on Goals

Under the direction of Coach Ronald Adcock, the Boys' Soccer Team got off to a good start.

Despite inclement weather conditions, the boys kept to their schedules and sometimes ended up playing in sub-zero temperatures.

Team captains were Raymond Gonzales, Shawn Smith, and Scott Thomas, goalie.

Girls' Soccer Heads in the Right Direction

Susan Burns prepares for a centerfield pass.

This year's soccer team got off to an excellent start. Led by Coach Jimmy Jenkins, the group worked mainly on stamina and endurance.

Part of their workout included an around-the-school run, yo-yos, offensive and defensive drills, windsprints, and stretching exercises.

The team performed well under bad weather, keeping their opponent's scoring to a minimum.

Tracksters Sprint into District Competition

Coach Galliga, who served his twelfth year as head coach of the boys track team, was excited about the season.

The tracksters worked really hard this year and showed great potential. They performed well in all of their meets. Outstanding members were Robbie Spence, Carl Palladino, Tim McDaniel, Marshall Williams, and Ashley Parrish.

"I'm cool," says Rufus Harris.

Daily Workouts Prepare Team for Competition

The Arlington Heights girls' track team got off to a running start.

Tiffany Davis, the only returning senior, led the track team this year. Other top runners included Tonya Tatifiller, Jeri Kent, Denise Kirkley and Helen Nelson.

The team was coached by Jimmy Jenkins, who put the team through many rigorous practices.

Varsity Tennis Players Beat District Teams

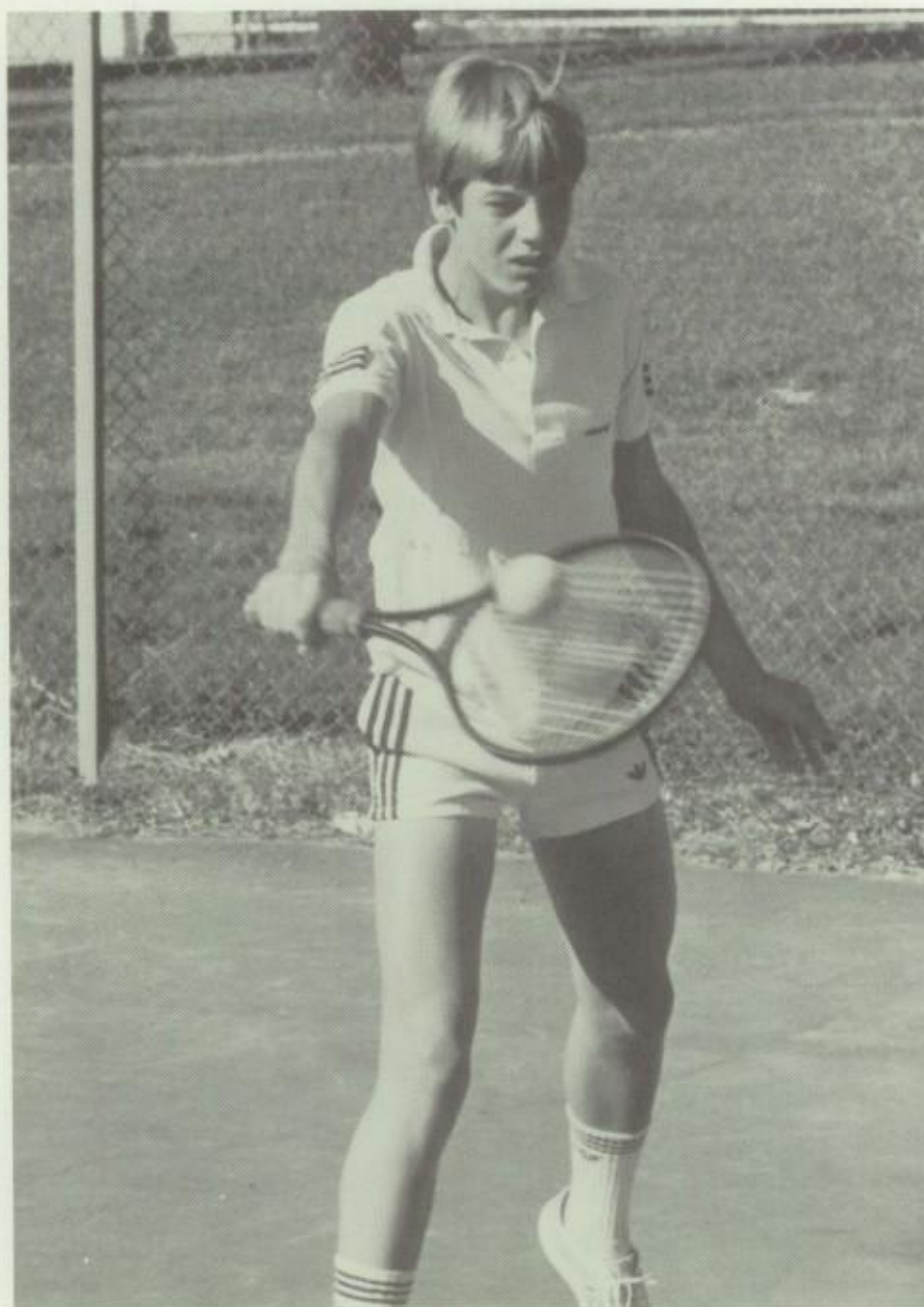

The Arlington Heights varsity tennis team had an exciting year with new coach, Sylvia McClure.

The boys' team consisted of Lance Fuller, Steve Johnson, seniors; John Herrera, David Koehn, juniors; Rusty Witcher, sophomore; and a strong youngster, Todd Rapp.

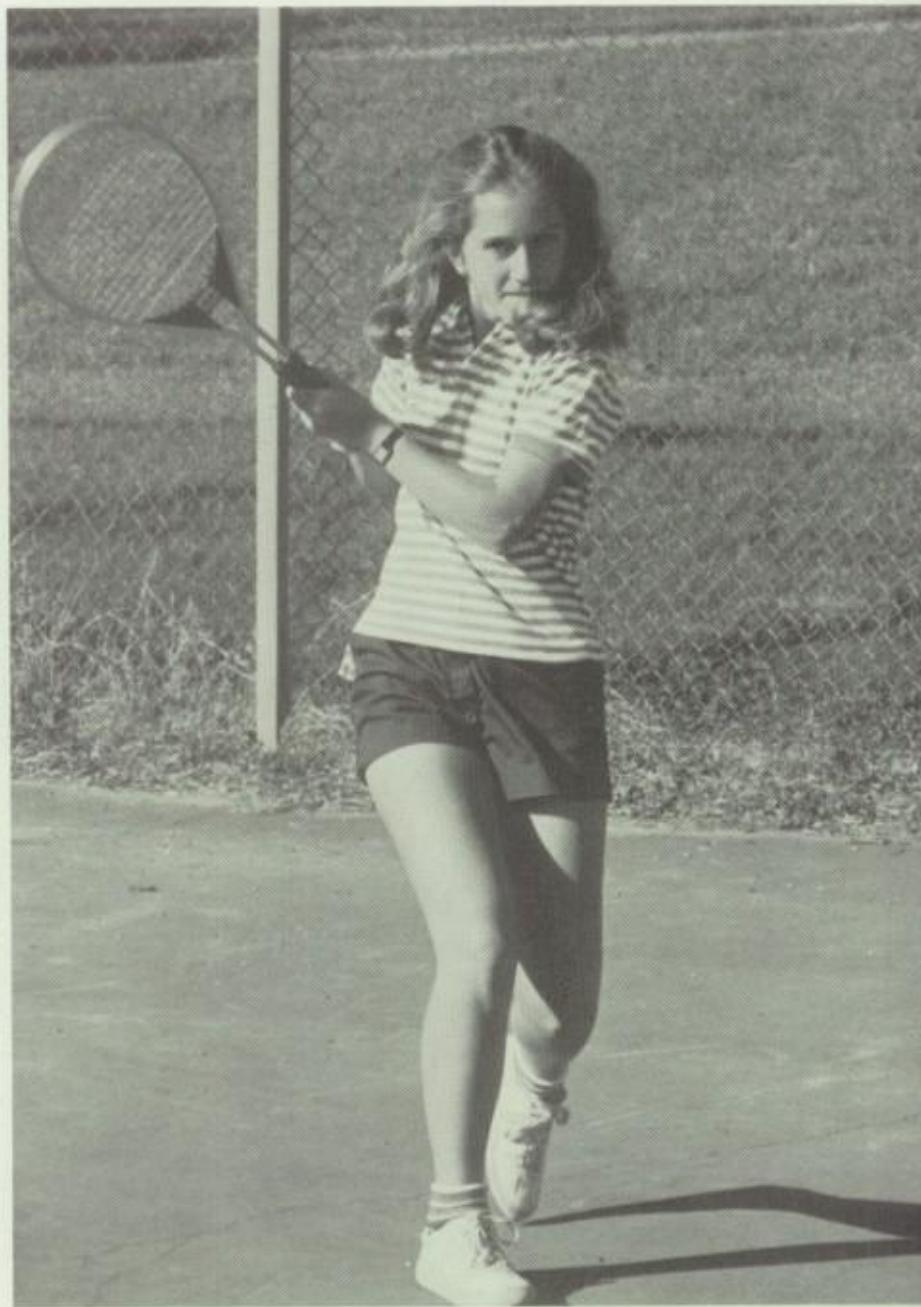

The girls' team consisted of Lauri Rapp, senior; Martha Brigance, Marion Brumley, Cathleen Milligan, juniors; Alison Barker, and Maggie McGrew, sophomores.

Lauri Rapp giggles as she nails her approach shot down the line for a winner.

Varsity Baseball Team Awaits District Foes

This year's Varsity baseball team, led by seniors Duke Chairex and Tres Morris, slid into district competition against Dunbar. Games with Lewisville, Sam Houston, and Weatherford were played as warm-ups for the oncoming district season. Coach Larry Wood expected this year's team to take a shot at the district championship and carry on into the state tournament. District games were played at Southwest and newly dedicated Lon Goldstein field versus other district foes such as Southwest, Paschal, and Western Hills.

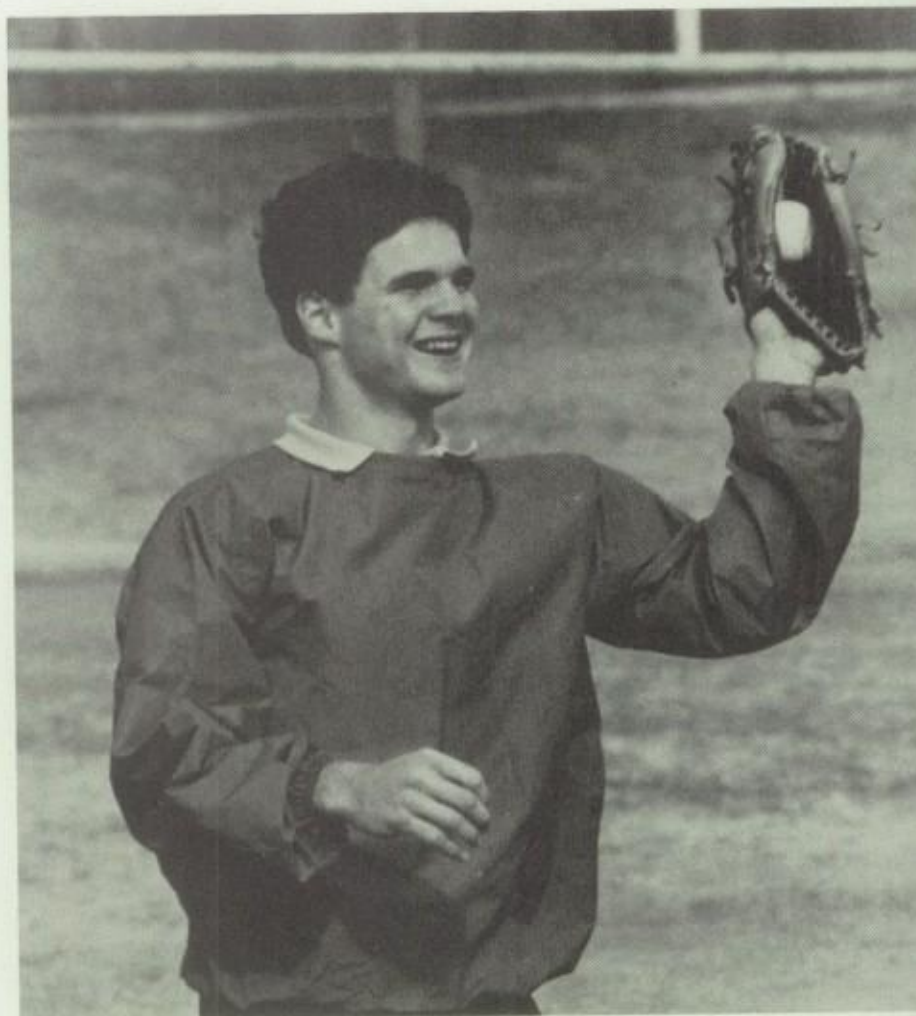

Before the beginning of the district season the team played in the Austin Invitational Tournament where funds were raised by selling hats in late January. A new baseball field was also erected at the other side of the top field, complete with dugouts and a new batting tunnel.

Gary Wells winds up to deliver the ball to second base from his outfield post.

Some would-be coaches instruct Chris Lewis on batting form.

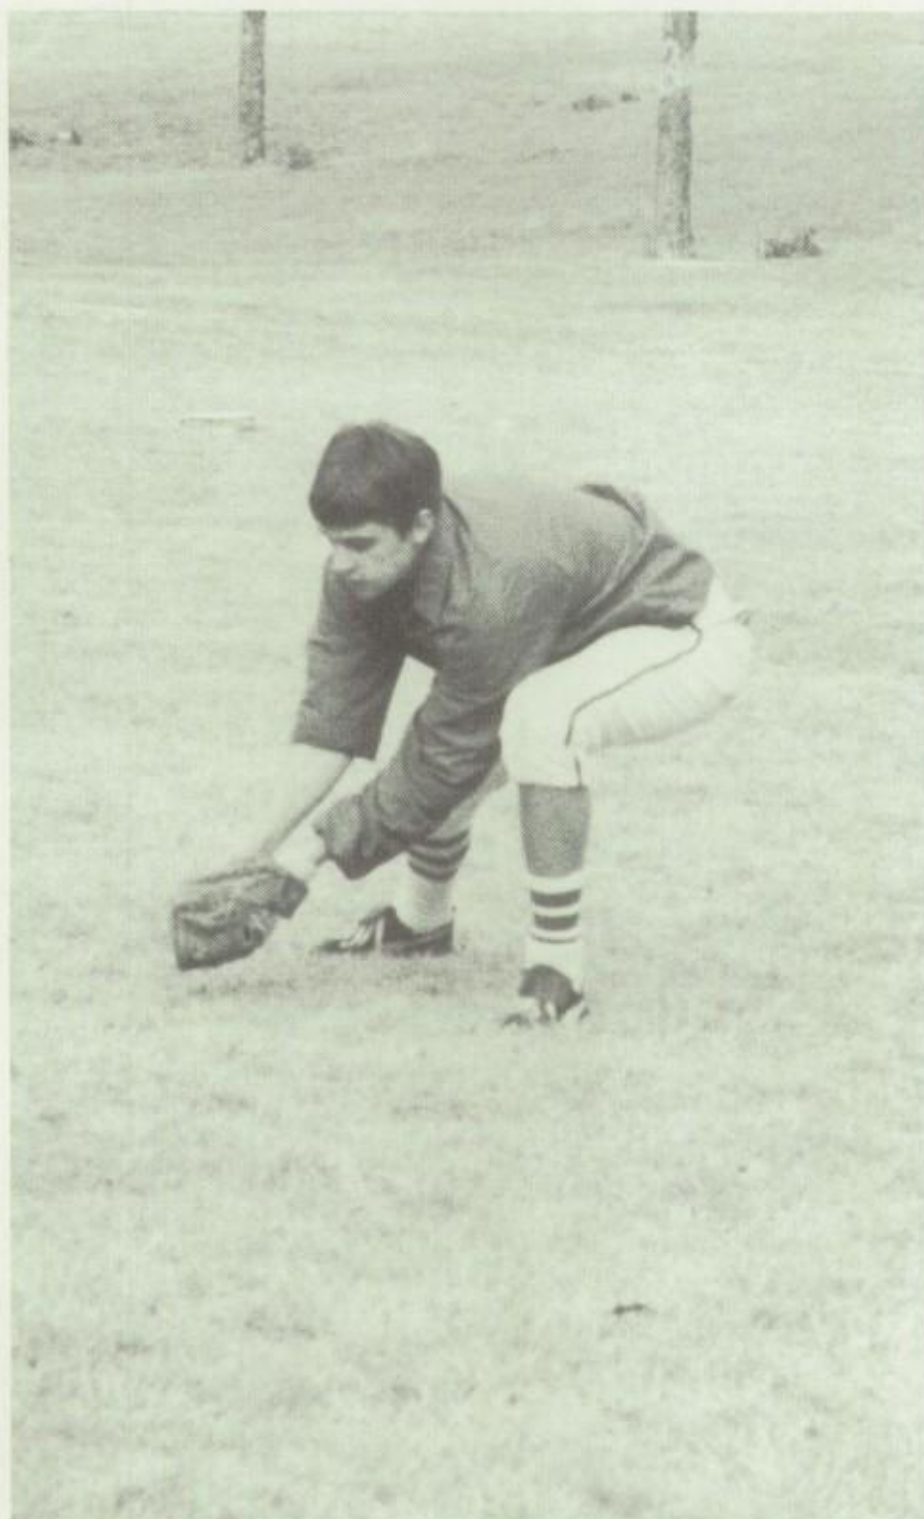

Steve Wolf shows his method of the complete follow-through.

Junior Varsity Baseballers Aim at the Top

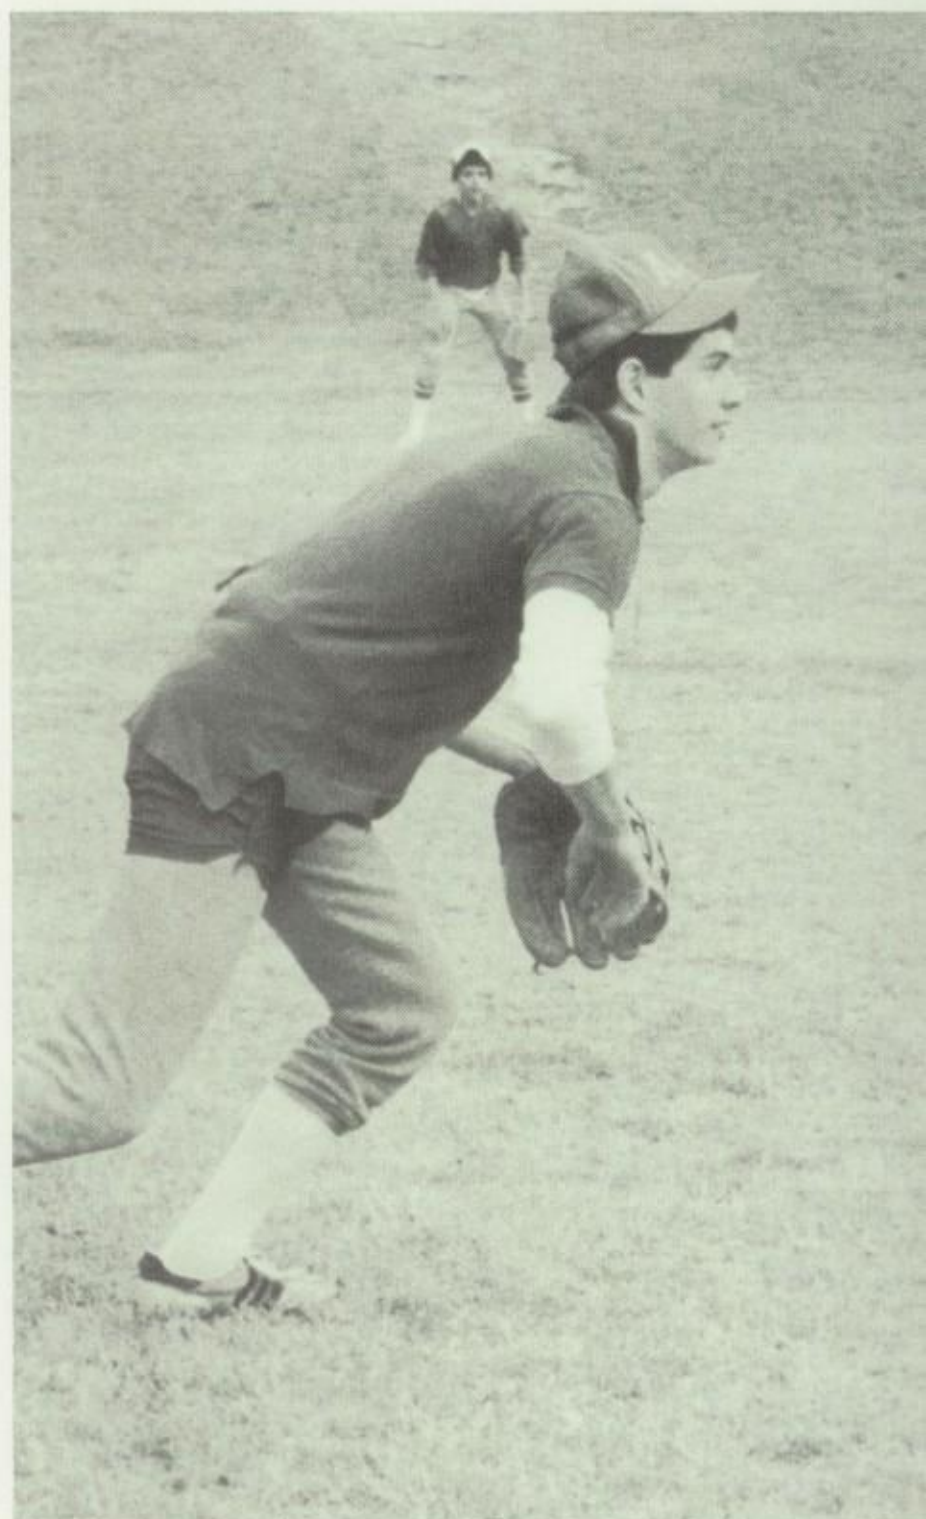

The Junior Varsity baseball team worked at obtaining the elusive perfect season for their coach Mike Wood after two near miss seasons. With 26-2 and 27-1 seasons for the last two years, Coach Wood hoped this team would do it for him. Led by freshman pitcher Tim Mauser and third baseman Carlos Mendoza, the team tried to put on a performance that would lead them to the district championship.

Todd Mulholland and Cameron Jones display teamwork on a catch of an infield fly.

Kurt Vanhofwegan sets to scoop up a "hot shot" grounder.

Brent Keeton charges a bunt down the third base line.

Freshmen Team Prepares for a Tough Season

Freshman baseball players, with new coach John Leseman, tried to carry on the winning tradition of the Heights frosh team. Working hard in lieu of the eight game district season, long hours of baseball training were logged for the future varsity players.

Rick Carney makes a diving catch to save a hit as infielder Joey Gomez looks on.

An outfielder dashes for a high fly ball.

Steven Gauntt takes a line shot off a bat with his glove.

1982 Cheerleaders Shoot for National Title

Under the direction of Coach Reed many changes were made in this year's varsity cheerleading squad in order to strive for a more powerful looking team that was appealing to crowds. Among these changes were sharper arm motions and simple cheers that were easily picked up.

After winning the Southwest District Texas Championship in San Marcos, the cheerleaders placed second in the Southwest Regional Tournament. This victory gave them a bid to Orlando, Florida where they placed fifth in the National title.

The 1982 varsity cheerleaders demonstrate their expertise in pyramid building.

Mr. A.H.H.S.: Tres Morris

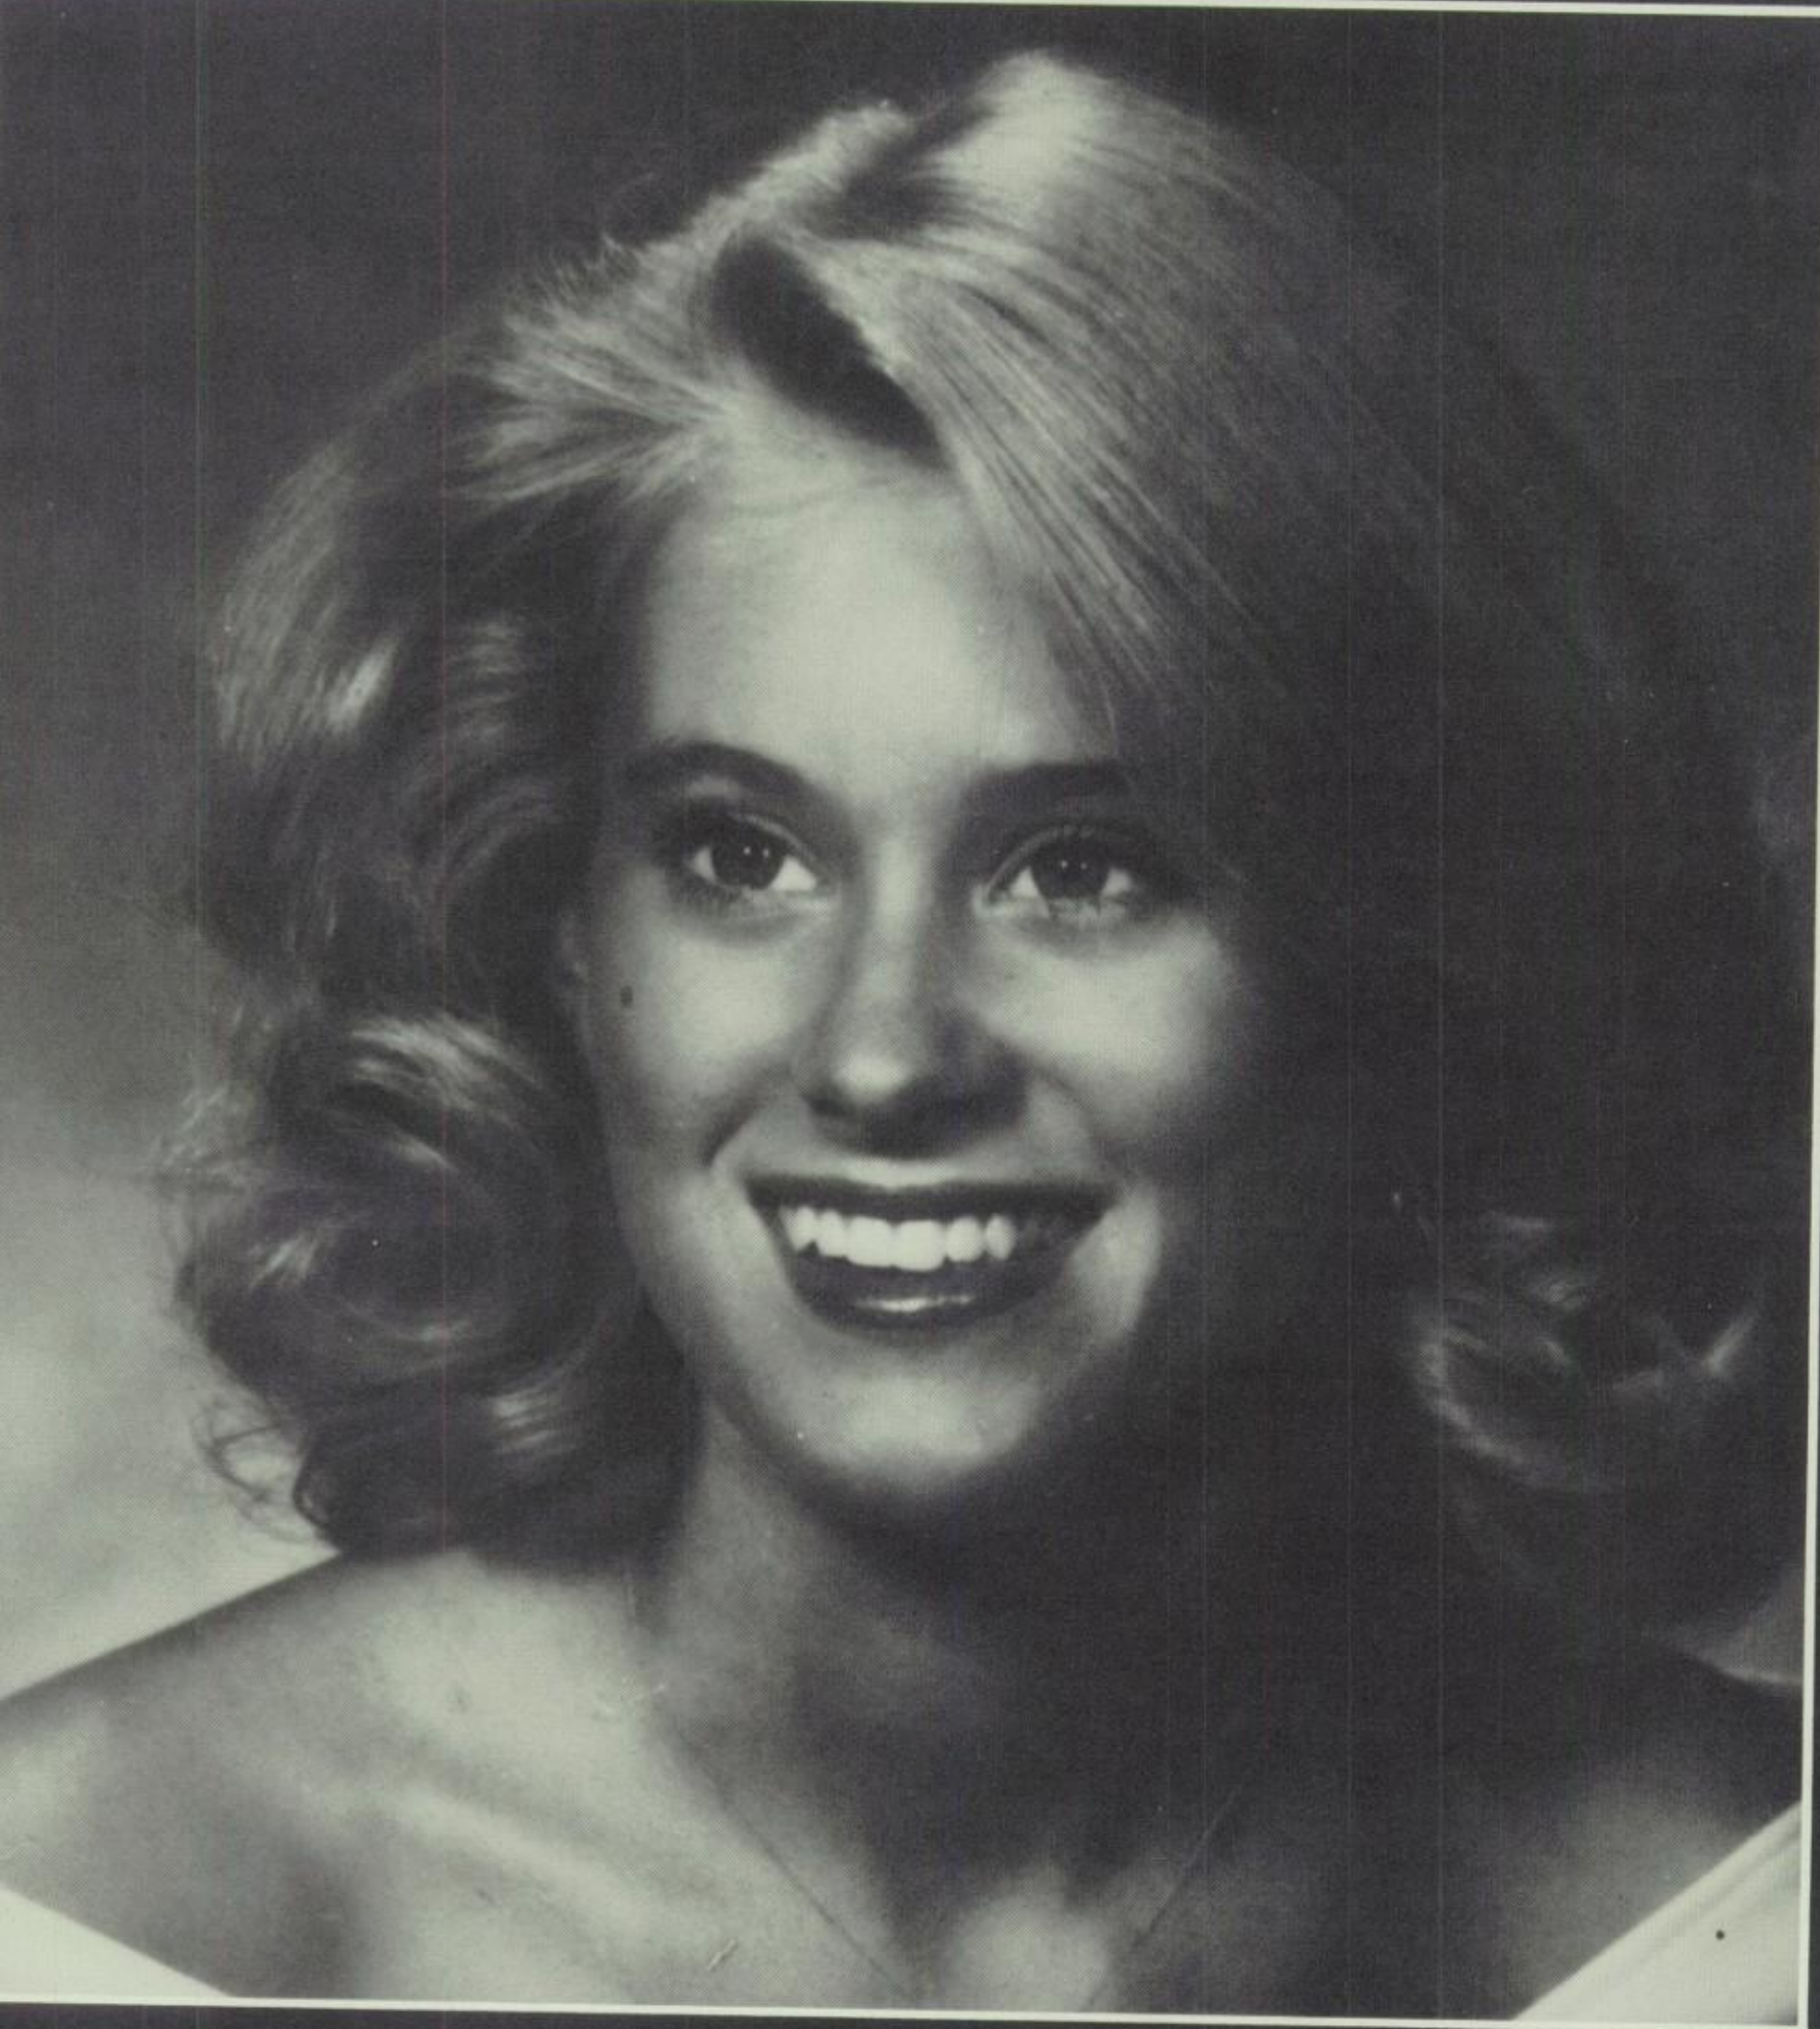

This year the Mr. AHHS title was awarded to Tres Morris. This is the top honor given to a boy at Heights.

Tres was a member of National Honor Society, a three year member of Spirit of the Hill, and has been listed on "Who's Who Among American High School Students." He was also on the Yellow Jacket Staff.

Tres also participated on the Basketball team for three years and the baseball team for four years. He was Freshman class president and was chosen as Junior favorite.

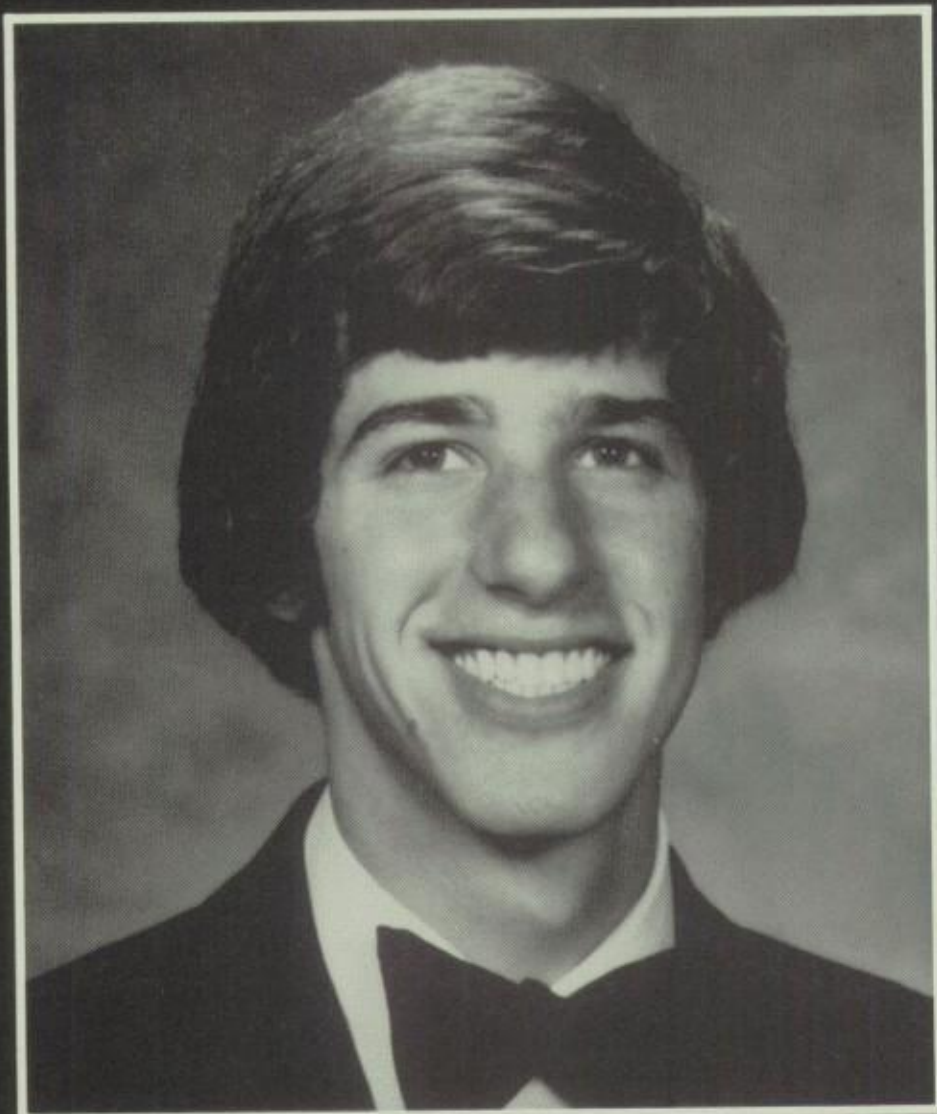

Miss A.H.H.S.: Laura Hartman

Miss AHHS, the highest title given to a girl at Heights, was awarded to Laura Hartman. She is chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, and personality of the student body.

Laura was a member of National Honor Society her Junior and Senior years, and a two year member of the Student Council, serving on the Special Projects committee.

Laura was a member of the cheerleading squad for three years as well as being a two year member of the Yellow Jacket staff.

Candoli Continues School Board Leadership

Dr. I. Carl Candoli lead the Fort Worth Independent School District through yet another progressive and productive year.

The completion of the Wilkerson-Greines Activity Center was the highlight of this year's School Board.

Mr. Tommy Thompson, Assistant Superintendent, and other dignitaries presided over the formal opening Thursday, December 17.

The Grand Opening made use of all of the center's many facilities. The 5040 seat gym hosted exhibition basketball and volleyball games, while area swim teams performed in the 50-meter Olympic size pool. Through the evening, members from Fort Worth's High school bands performed on the center's expandable stage. The huge facility also boasts concession stands, three dressing rooms, and conference rooms.

Another function of the Activity Center is to house convocation and graduation ceremonies. The Class of '82 was the first group to graduate at the new center.

When the Activity Center is not being used by the district, the school board rents the building to various private organizations.

Mrs. Frances Alles Returns to Lead the Hill

Arlington Heights welcomed Mrs. Frances Alles back to the Hill this year as principal.

Mrs. Alles taught P.E. one year at Heights. After the formation of Western Hills, High School, she became vice-principal of that school, a position which she held for ten years.

She later became the Assistant Director of Secondary Education.

After three years at the Administration Building, Mrs. Alles came back to Heights to begin her new job as "Leader of the Hill."

SPECIAL THANKS

Stanley Joe
Hempel's Studio
David Dixon

We would like to express our deepest thanks to the 1982 Yellow Jacket sponsor, Mr. Larry Barnes, for his patient guidance through which this book became a reality. We also wish to extend that gratitude to the Annual Staff for their hard work. And above all to the students and faculty of Heights for giving a reason to produce this yearbook.

Carl, am glad
I sure you'd curish
I met you didn't English!
I would've been BORING!
Remember all these times we cheated!
Goodness, your SO silly! Hail an
"A^WSOME" Summer! (ha)
"SR" gal up, lots,
Michelle
85.

Carl,

you are a sweet and good looking guy! stay that way and you will have girls trampling down your doors.
Come to Mayfest again and give me a call this summer!

Love,
Jessie
Meek

To a real nice guy. I think you are very sweet.
I hope I see you
over the summer.
Have the next year a great time

Carl,

Hello, I'm so glad that we have become such good friends this year. You are very nice to ~~me~~ every one. (usually) I'm sorry we don't know each other as well as we could. Have fun this summer, and good luck always.

Thanks for being a friend,

Love ya always,
Genia.

all, 10 year
ping was real eat. You are a sweet out that say
you stay have some classes together we have a year. Hope you have a good summer.
stay sweet and you will go far.
lots of love, SK '85
Barbara W.

To Carl:

You've made this year really memorable. You're sweet, crazy: ~~and~~ you have an outgoing personality.
Stay sweet & out of trouble
this summer.

SK "85" Take care
your friend

To Carl
I meet in Mr.
Waters class I thought that class was a drag
I thought you were the only nice guy in the hole class well good luck in the next three year of your high school.

From your friend
Martin
Valdez

Carl!
You're a really neat guy and I'm so glad that I got a chance to meet
you. This year in homeroom
I hope you get everything in life. Good luck in the future! Love ya lots!
